What source(s) will military students use to purchase books and/or resource materials for their course(s)?

Students, including military, attending TUI are not required to purchase course materials or text books. All instructional and reference materials are available via the TUI Online Library. The Online Library allows students and faculty to have digital access to reference materials, electronic journal collections, website links, and electronic book collections provided through the following on line resources: Education Resources Information Center (ERIC), Academic Search Complete (EBSCO), Business Source Complete (EBSCO), Dissertations & Theses (Proquest), Ebrary, Proquest Central, and PubMed@Trident. The institution pays for these resources from the Academic Affairs budget which is in our Operational Expenses under Instructional Costs. Military TA fees are not used directly for the purchase of course materials, ebooks or books for Military students. Virtual lab resources - all sciences course with lab various from 25-69 purchased through Pearson. [8/6/2018 2:56 PM] Megan Smith: MIC 100 L gives this link <https://vumicro.com/get-vumic/>
